DETAILED ACTION

Applicants' arguments, filed 9/26/03, have been fully considered and they are deemed to be persuasive to overcome rejections/objections of record. Rejections and/or objections not reiterated from previous office actions are hereby withdrawn. Unfortunately, upon reconsideration, the following rejections and/or objections are newly applied. They constitute the complete set presently being applied to the instant application.

STATUTORY 101 DOUBLE PATENTING

A rejection based on double patenting of the "same invention" type finds its support in the language of 35 U.S.C. 101 which states that "whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process ... may obtain a patent therefor ..." (Emphasis added). Thus, the term "same invention," in this context, means an invention drawn to identical subject matter. See Miller v. Eagle Mfg. Co., 151 U.S. 186 (1894); In re Ockert, 245 F.2d 467, 114 USPQ 330 (CCPA 1957); and In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970).

A statutory type (35 U.S.C. 101) double patenting rejection can be overcome by canceling or amending the conflicting claims so they are no longer coextensive in scope. The filing of a terminal disclaimer cannot overcome a double patenting rejection based upon 35 U.S.C. 101.

Claim 47 is provisionally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as claiming the same invention as that of claim 33 of copending Application No. 10/081,936. This is a provisional double patenting rejection since the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

OBVIOUSNESS-TYPE DOUBLE PATENTING

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11

Art Unit: 1631

F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claim 73 is rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1, 3, 4, 9, 10, and 19-23 of U.S. Patent No. 6,096,273. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because claims 1, 3, etc. of said Patent contain embodiments in common with instant claim 73. In particular, claims 1, 3, etc. of said Patent cite the electrode, passivation agents monolayer in claims 9 and 10 which are thus embodiments of claims 1, 3, etc. due to claims 9 and 10 depending from claim 1 of said Patent. Such a monolayer passivation agents limitation is also cited in instant claim 73 with added limitations directed to comprising conductive oligomers, as in instant claim 72. Claims 9 and 10 of said Patent lack specifics of what is meant therein by a passivation agents monolayer thus requiring consultation to the specification as a Dictionary as to what is meant. In column 23, lines 35-65, the passivation agent definition clearly includes conductive oligomers and insulators therein as cited specifically in instant claim 73. It is also noted that the Dictionary explanation of covalent attachment of at least one nucleic acid with a spacer of various types of instant claim 73 is required within said Patent. In said Patent in column 5, lines 23-48, said spacer linkage of nucleic acid is both depicted and described.

Claims 57, 62, 64, 65, and 73 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1, 3, 4, 9, and 10 of copending Application No. 10/081,936. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because each claim set contains common embodiments directed to various conductive oligomer containing compositions with nucleic acid. The above Dictionary analysis regarding monolayer passivation agent and spacer attachment to nucleic acid as in instant claim 73 also is equivalently present in corresponding sections of the specification of application No. 10/081,936.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claims 48, 63, 66, 67, and 72 are allowable.
